High Conviction Overlaps (2+ Whales)

Alphabet (GOOGL/GOOG): Present in Appaloosa & Coatue — both top 5 holdings. Tepper added in Q4; Laffont's #2 position (~$4B+). AI infrastructure + search dominance thesis.

Amazon (AMZN): Held by Appaloosa & Coatue. Tepper slightly reduced but still top 5; Laffont stable. AWS growth + margin expansion story.

Situational Awareness (SIT) — AI Infrastructure Pivot

Leopold Aschenbrenner's thesis: The AGI bottleneck has shifted from chips to physical infrastructure — power, cooling, and data center capacity.

- Alphabet & Amazon are the highest-conviction mega-cap overlaps (2+ whales, both increased in Q4)
- Micron (MU) is a notable Appaloosa add — memory cycle recovery thesis
- Intel (INTC) — SIT exited common shares but kept 20.2M calls; turnaround optionality play

Whale Activity Trends

Common Themes Across Managers:

- AI Infrastructure > AI Chips: Multiple whales rotating from chip designers to power/data center plays
- Google & Amazon resilient: Despite AI disruption fears, both remain core holdings
- Semiconductor consolidation: Coatue trimmed NVDA; SIT exited NVDA puts; but MU added by Tepper
- Active trading: Point72 turned over 25%+ of portfolio; high conviction = concentrated bets
